PROFILE

Anna holds a Master's degree in Clinical Psychology and a Master's degree in Educational Sciences. She successfully transitioned into IT through a data science traineeship and completed the "Software Engineering" graduation program at CGI, after which she started working as a software engineer. Due to her husband's diplomatic post, Anna relocated to Turkey, where she continued her development by completing various developer programs with SheCodes and Scrimba, building a portfolio of front-end projects. In addition, she founded Logos, where she offers online writing coaching.
